NJCL CONVENTION

As you may have heard, the National Junior Classical League Convention will be held online from July 24-29, 2020.

ACL Institute 2020

As you may have heard, the ACL Institute will be held online at the end of June, 2020. Please watch for upcoming news about how this will work and how you can participate.

See www.aclclassics.org for further information.

COVID-19 MAY KNOCK US DOWN, BUT IT DOESN'T KNOCK US OUT!

In a surreal few months, COVID-19 developed from a vague thought into a full-fledged pandemic. Like everything else in the world right now, the Classical Association of Virginia has been affected. Our Spring 2020 Meeting was canceled, and so our results for all elections, awards, and contests will be included in this newsletter. Enjoy!

The Nominations Committee is pleased to announce the election of the following members as officers for 2020-2022:

- President: Patty Lister (Thomas Jefferson High School for Science and Technology, Alexandria)
- Vice President: Amy Cohen (Randolph College, Lynchburg)
- Secretary: Angela Pitts (University of Mary Washington, Fredericksburg)
- Treasurer: Cliff Broeniman (Lee-Davis High School, Ashland)

Liane Houghtalin (University of Mary Washington, Fredericksburg) will move into the position of Immediate Past President. Thanks to committee members Mark Keith, Bart Natoli and Chloe Scales for their service!

Congratulations to Liane Houghtalin, who has been named the 2020 recipient of the Jane Harriman Hall Award for Outstanding Service to the Classical Association of Virginia. Liane, a long-time member, has served on at least two separate occasions in the office of Treasurer, in which she had the foresight to move extra funds into CDs and money market accounts, thus providing reserves and stability in our monies. Moreover, Liane has served admirably two years as Vice President, overseeing the organization's contests, scholarships, and awards, and two years now as President, organizing outstanding and informative meetings at the University of Virginia and Randolph-Macon College. Her solid dedication and support for CAV is unmatched and ensures that the organization continues to move forward, representing teachers, professors, and lovers of Latin, Greek, and classics in the Commonwealth of Virginia. Liane Houghtalin is Professor at the University of Mary Washington in Fredericksburg.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Salvete, amici et amicae,

Back in January, when I was putting together the spring meeting at the University of Mary Washington, I never imagined the world we find ourselves in now. Of course, there was no spring meeting, and our world has been turned inside out. I find myself, however, less filled with regret than with gratitude. I am grateful to our speakers, Elise Friedland (The George Washington University), Sarah Herbert (University of Mary Washington), and Rick Phillips (Virginia Tech), all of whom have said that they are willing to speak at a future CAV meeting. I am likewise grateful to April Spratley, whose CAV Aulos Workshop in April was canceled, but who is already planning one for next spring. I am grateful to our wonderful tournament and contest directors, Kevin Jefferson, John Miller, and Nadia Ghosheh, who overcame tremendous difficulties in making sure that the contests could continue this spring when COVID-19 shut down schools. A big thank you to all who stepped up to help out. The Virginia Classics community pulled together, and the results are here for you to see in this newsletter.

Also in this newsletter are the results of the recent CAV elections. This will be my last president's message, as I pass the virtual gavel to the new CAV president, Patty Lister. While we cannot yet predict what the fall will bring, Patty and I remain hopeful for a ceremonial passing of the physical gavel then, as well as the opportunity to say a special thank you to outgoing officers, secretary Brianna McArthur and treasurer Andrea Weiskopf. Stay tuned!

As you read this, it is likely that you have just closed out your spring semester or are close to doing so. Reports from across the Commonwealth show teachers stepping up to the plate in their newly remote roles and being nothing short of remarkable. The summer will bring a new type of course planning for the fall, which can only be characterized as "be ready for anything." Take pleasure in Latin and Greek, plan for better days, and stay safe.

Ex animo,

Liane

The winner of this year's Wayne W. Wray Scholarship is Jocelyn Robertson from the Classical Cottage School taught by Susan Schearer.

Jocelyn serves as the president of the National Junior Classical League, having previously served as the president of the Virginia JCL. She has placed in the top two in the CAV Tournament for six years running (perhaps seven as of this writing) among too many other awards and recognitions to mention. She is currently working through the NJCL to introduce a Latin-based literacy program for elementary school students around the country. She is a most worthy recipient of this year's Wayne Wray Scholarship.

The Lurlene Todd Teacher of the Year Award for 2020 goes to Christina A. Salowey of Hollins University. Christina sent in the following words:

I would like to dedicate this award in spirit to all of the ancient language teachers out there in Virginia who are finding innovative ways to engage their students online in these difficult times. As I myself have faced a very steep learning curve bringing the study and teaching of ancient languages online this past month, I have been awed by the work and ideas of teachers who have posted on various FB pages their new methods to make Latin fun yet keep it rigorous. So if I can, in some way dedicate this award to those heroic teachers, who probably have even less support than I do at Hollins (!), I would like to do that.

The 2020 Angela Lloyd Book Award goes to Christine Conklin. This year's recipient is long overdue and it's past time to rectify that. She has grown a Latin program from the "minimum requirement for the advanced studies diploma" to a thriving program where students continue to AP and post-AP work, from a program with one full-time teacher to two full-time teachers, and this was done in a STEM magnet school where students arrive for the math and science, but now are branching into classics at both the high school and college levels despite the perception that STEM subjects are paramount!

"Ah, a magnet school," I hear you thinking, "that's easy because they're all gifted and talented there." Well, yes and no. The school does attract high caliber, driven students, but that doesn't mean that they're driven to Latin! There are seven languages to choose from and a plethora of teams, clubs, and electives, all aimed at attracting them. So what is this teacher's secret to luring them, and keeping them, in Latin, Latin Club, and certamina?

She cares. No, she cares deeply, going above and beyond the “average” (and we all know the massive amount of time, love, and work invested by “average” Latin teachers) to plan and prepare classes, Club, certamina, and convention activities, to write more letters of recommendation than there are realistically time to write. She cares about her colleagues as well, and that’s most assuredly a service to the CAV. As noted in her nomination, “She has selflessly given of her time to help me when I’ve had some emergency or other – she has covered my class, made the sub plans, done the hundreds of little things that make true colleagues so valuable.” The CAV exists to promote the Classics and Classics students, but it also exists to promote, to support and to nurture our colleagues for the good of us all and for the benefit of our students. This year’s recipient clearly does all of that.

One final quote from her nomination:
Christine Conklin inspires her students to reach beyond what was necessary and beyond what they thought possible. She works tirelessly on their behalf and lets them bask in their successes. They become true lovers of the Classics.

I can’t imagine a finer tribute to a more deserving recipient. Three cheers for Christine Conklin!

CAV Teacher Placement Service

Do you know of a Latin teaching position in your area? Or are you currently searching for a Latin teaching position? The CAV Placement Service offers a free program to bring together teachers seeking Latin positions in Virginia and schools in Virginia which are seeking Latin teachers. Schools send us listings of their positions, and we send these listings by e-mail to the teachers who have registered with the CAV Placement Service. We provide continuous updates from March until September. If you know of a position available, have the school principal or personnel office get in touch with the service. If you wish a position, send in your name and e-mail address. We ask schools and teachers to contact Jon D. Mikalson by e-mail at: jdm9x@virginia.edu. There are no charges for these services!

CAV Online Registration Form

We now have an online registration form! If you have not registered with the CAV yet this year, it's not too late! Maybe you want to apply to be a Star Institution (wink, wink)! CAV Membership Google Form

FLAVA Fall Conference

Each year, FLAVA gathers educators, administrators, and scholars of Virginia's world language programs and supports their professional development needs and interests in teaching, technology, pedagogy, and learning. Our last Fall Conference featured over 160 engaging sessions and over 600 participants with the theme "Let Languages Unlock Your World!"

Our 2020 conference will be 8-10 October 2020 with the theme "Beyond Languages."
We hope to see you there!

In Memoriam - Marvin Colker

Marvin Colker, our emeritus colleague in Classics at the University of Virginia, passed away in Charlottesville, just three weeks after his 93rd birthday. Marvin spent his entire long career at UVA (1953–98), and worked nearly every summer in the library of Trinity College, Dublin. His research centered on palaeography and textual criticism in the medieval period. Among Marvin's long list of distinguished publications are a critical edition of Walter of Chatillon's epic Alexandreis; Analecta Dublinensia: Three Medieval Latin Texts in the Library of Trinity College, Dublin; and America Rediscovered in the Thirteenth Century. In the course of compiling his magisterial two-volume catalog of the medieval and Renaissance manuscripts at TCD, he rediscovered numerous works. Trinity awarded Marvin an honorary Doctor of Letters in 1987.

Do You Use thelatinlibrary.com? Show Your Appreciation!

For most classicists, the question is not do you use the Latin Library web site. The question is how often do you use the Latin Library web site. How often is it the go-to for a text to use in class? For a text that your library just does not have? For a resource you recommend to your students? It is a treasure house for us all.

According to its web site, "For more than twenty years, the Latin Library has been a labor of love for its maintainer, William L. Carey. For health reasons he has recently passed the maintenance of the library to someone new who will continue it in the same spirit. If the library has enriched you, feel free to drop a note of appreciation to latinlibrary@mac.com. They will be most appreciated."

CAV News submissions due Aug 1, Nov 1, Mar 1, May 1. Please notify us directly when your email address changes! Send changes to CAVClassics@gmail.com
